ABOUT ME

I am a software development enthusiast with a deep passion for all things related. With over 4 years of experience, I've successfully developed a diverse range of applications, including web, mobile, and desktop solutions.

Currently, my professional tech stack is centered around C# and .NET. In addition to this, I have solid experience with frontend technologies, including HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.

On a personal level, I'm continuously expanding my knowledge, particularly in TypeScript, as well as libraries and frameworks like React and Next.js.
