ABOUT ME

I'm a software development enthusiast with over five years of experience building diverse applications across web, mobile, and desktop platforms. My main tech stack includes C# .NET and JavaScript/jQuery, along with solid frontend skills in HTML, CSS, and Bootstrap.

I've expanded my frontend capabilities with React and TypeScript to enhance my full-stack development skills, though my primary focus remains on .NET specialization.

I'm adaptable, always eager to grow within my expertise area, and committed to delivering high-quality solutions while continuously deepening my .NET knowledge and staying current with the latest framework developments.
